Dear Secretary Chad F. Wolf,

We write on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) recipients who call our cities and this country their home. As we face an unprecedented health crisis, we want to ensure that DACA recipients are supported during these difficult times. We respectfully request that you protect the nearly 700,000 DACA recipients awaiting a decision from the Supreme Court on the future of the program by automatically renewing all DACA work permits expiring in 2020. As our nation fights the COVID-19 pandemic, automatically renewing the DACA employment authorization documents that expire this year will ensure that DACA recipients continue to seek medical care, as needed, without fear and, for those who are also healthcare providers and essential workers, that they remain in the workforce.

In the midst of this pandemic, the interruption in deferred action from removal and employment eligibility for DACA recipients may create uncertainty and discourage some from getting tested and seeking medical attention during COVID-19. As stated by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), it is critical that any individual who has been exposed to COVID-19 and develops symptoms related to the virus, calls their healthcare provider for medical advice. It is extremely dangerous for our country to have DACA recipients, and other immigrant communities, be afraid to seek medical care during this time because it jeopardizes entire communities and undermines our efforts to address this public health crisis.

Additionally, there are an estimated 27,000¹ DACA recipients across the U.S. who work in healthcare careers. They are part of the social and economic fabric of our communities and have answered the call for duty and are in the frontlines fighting COVID-19. DACA recipients are healthcare workers, grocery store workers, child care providers, business owners, restaurant workers, nonprofits leaders, and they are providing essential services during this public health crisis. An expired work permit will prevent these essential workers from providing critical services as we face this virus.

During these difficult times, our nation is not prepared for a shortage of healthcare professionals and essential workers.

Due to the impact that the COVID-19 pandemic can have on the immediate wellbeing and future of DACA recipients and their communities, we respectfully urge you to maintain the DACA program and automatically renew the DACA employment authorization documents that expire this year to keep everyone safe.

Sincerely,

Dear Mayor Garcetti:

Thank you for your suggestions and comments in your April 13, 2020 letter. The Supreme Court recently issued a ruling in Department of Homeland Security v. Regents of the University of California regarding the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program. Acting Secretary Wolf asked that I respond on his behalf.

Reaffirming Acting Secretary Wolf's statement on the Supreme Court's decision, DACA recipients deserve closure and finality surrounding their status here in the United States. U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services will work with DHS on next steps regarding the Court's decision and will consider your views during this process.

Thank you again for your letter and interest in this important matter.

Sincerely,

Joseph Edlow
Deputy Director for Policy
