Mr. James McCament
Acting Director
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services
Washington, DC 20529

Dear Acting Director McCament:

The Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs is examining the issue of forced and child marriages in the context of our immigration system. As such, we request your assistance in understanding how the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) assesses petitions for fiancé(e) and spousal visas.

As you may know, a forced marriage is a marriage in which one or both parties is married without his or her consent or against his or her will.¹ A child marriage, on the other hand, is a marriage in which one or both of the parties are under 18 years of age.² The State Department views forced marriage as “a human rights abuse and, in the case of minors, a form of child abuse.”³ Human rights advocates report that individuals may exploit our immigration system to force people into marriage, including minors, or to deter reports of marital abuse. The Council on Foreign Relations concluded that “child marriage is undoubtedly a violation of human rights,” explaining that “[a]lthough child marriage is uncommon in Western democracies such as the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia, recent studies suggest that immigrant and diaspora populations in these countries are perpetuating the practice.”⁴

In addition to human rights concerns, forced or child marriages may create vulnerabilities in the U.S. immigration system. For example, there is no federal prohibition on minors petitioning for immigration benefits for potential spouses or fiancé(e)s, or for U.S. adults from petitioning for fiancé(e) or spousal visas for foreign nationals who are minors.⁵ Fraidy Reiss, founder of the non-governmental organization Unchained at Last and herself the victim of a forced marriage, explained that when the minor is the U.S. citizen, “families of young brides will often promise American citizenship to a foreign husband in lieu of paying a dowry.”⁶ Additionally, U.S. citizens may exploit the immigration system by persuading their immigrating fiancé(e) not to apply for naturalization and using the threat of deportation to deter the victim from reporting abuse.⁷ In this way, our immigration system may unintentionally shield the abuse of women and children.

Given these concerns, we respectfully request that you work in conjunction with DHS management and the DHS Inspector General to identify solutions that might address the flaws in our immigration system that facilitate the exploitation of minors and immigrants alike. Additionally, to help our understanding of the scope of this issue, we ask that you provide a briefing for Committee staff and include the following information:

1. The number of petitions for fiancé(e) visas filed with USCIS from 2007 to the present, by year, in which either the petitioner or the beneficiary was a minor. Please include:
 - a. The ages of both parties at the time of petition;
 - b. The country of birth of the fiancé(e);
 - c. The number of fiancé(e) petitions approved;
 - d. Of those petitions approved, the number that later petitioned for a U- or T-Visa; and
 - e. The number of U- or T-Visas approved.

2. The number of petitions for a spousal visas filed with USCIS from 2007 to the present, by year, in which either the petitioner or the beneficiary was a minor. Please include:
 - a. The ages of both parties at the time of petition;
 - b. The country of birth of the alien spouse; and
 - c. The number of petitions approved;
 - d. Of those petitions approved, the number that later petitioned for a U- or T-Visa; and
 - e. The number of U- or T-Visas approved.

The Honorable Ron Johnson
Chairman
Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Chairman Johnson:

Thank you for your September 15, 2017 letter to then Acting Director McCament regarding forced and minor marriages in the context of our immigration system. Additionally, thank you for your patience as compiling and analyzing the requested data took longer than expected.

Your inquiry elicited multiple discussions on what U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) can do to prevent forced minor marriages. Currently, there are no statutory age requirements associated with petitioning for a spouse or being listed as the spousal beneficiary on Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative. In addition, there are no legal provisions that require the Form I-129F, Petition for Alien Fiancé(e), petitioner or beneficiary be a minimum age at the time of filing. However, USCIS will not approve a petition where either the beneficiary or petitioner's age at marriage violates the laws of the place of celebration or the public policy of the U.S. state in which the couple plans to reside. An approved Form I-129F or Form I-130 means only that USCIS recognized the claimed relationship between the petitioner and beneficiary, but the approval of the petition in and of itself does not grant any immigration benefits. The approval of these forms does not permit the beneficiary to travel to the United States nor does it guarantee that the Department of State will issue the visa.

While collecting the information in response to your request, USCIS discovered several data integrity issues caused by a combination of years of manual data entry errors and petitioner errors, such as an incorrect birth year or incorrect selection of the requested visa category on the form. To resolve the data integrity issues, USCIS compared the data in various electronic systems and conducted a manual review of cases to identify and correct false positives (i.e., cases where the petitioner or beneficiary was not actually a minor or where the individual was a derivative beneficiary/child, rather than the principal beneficiary/spouse).

While working on a response to your letter, USCIS developed two solutions to prevent manual data entry errors in the future. The first solution is a flag that sends an alert at the time of filing if a minor spouse or fiancé is identified. After the initial flag, the case is sent to a special unit that verifies that the age and relationship listed are correct before the petition is accepted. If the classification on the petition is incorrect, the petition will be returned to the petitioner for correction.

The second enhancement that USCIS has implemented is the creation of a flag in the electronic system that requires verification of the date of birth at the time of adjudication whenever a minor spouse or fiancé is detected. Furthermore, the forms used by USCIS have evolved over the last 10 years. The newer, updated forms are easier to navigate and have a lower rate of data entry errors compared to earlier versions of the forms. USCIS is continuing to explore further solutions and modifications to decrease manual data entry errors.

As requested, USCIS officials met with committee staff on October 26, 2017, and on June 7, 2018 to discuss this issue. USCIS welcomes the opportunity to brief your staff again with the finalized data enclosed and to explain our method of collecting, correcting, and analyzing the information we found.

Thank you again for your letter and for speaking with me this spring so I could provide you with an overview of the actions being taken to address your inquiry. Ranking Member McCaskill, who co-signed the letter, will receive a separate, identical response. Should you require any additional assistance, please have your staff contact the USCIS Office of Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs at (202) 272-1940.

Respectfully,

L. Francis Cissna
Director

- 1) The report reflects the most up-to-date data available at the time the report is generated.
- 2) Petitions may have been adjudicated in a later year than the one in which they were received.
- 3) T/U petitions were matched on beneficiary and petitioner A numbers from the approved I-129F minor approvals.
- 4) Approved petitions are reported by the fiscal year in which they were received.
- 5) The term "minor" as it pertains to marriage is not defined by the INA, and approximately half of all U.S. states have no minimum age requirement for marriage, but for these purposes "minor" generally means under the age of 18
- 6) Approved and pending cases were manually reviewed and updated electronically where evidence existed that the beneficiary/petitioner date of birth or the beneficiary class of admission was incorrect in the electronic systems. The data for denied petitions is reported as it exists in the electronic systems. USCIS assumes a similar data error rate for these petitions.
- 7) Beneficiary gender is not recorded in the electronic systems.
- 8) Petitioner gender is not recorded in the electronic systems.
